The Exciting Experience of an Early Settler on the Upper Delaware—A First-class Rear Fight. Among the many old settlers of the Pike county hills and glens is an old sun-burned man, who has a little cabin a few rods back from the regular path to Mount Union. Visitors here are told that he can tell many a strange tale about the pioneers and their history, and here is one that he gave a day or two ago : You want a yarn about myself in my younger days, do you, stranger? Well, there's many a one, and tough, too, I might tell you. But, seein' you come from the city, and are eager for somethin' rather excitin', I will give you an account of the trouble we had with the bears when we built the first hotel up here. That was we built the first hotel up here. That was a good while ago; I couldn't think of saying just how long. I was a young, strong chap then, and could lift as heavy a load as any of 'em. Some speculative fellow from Philadelphia had seen this place around here, and made up his mind to build a tavern, and see if he couldn't get a lot of men here to sell fish. The fishin' was wouderful in them days. The bears were terrible plenty in this neighborhood, although we had driven 'em away on the Jersey side. You see there was no one livin' over here then but two old trappers. They had a hut right over the hill yonder, and not far from where the Gap House is now. The lumber for the tavern was brought down on rafts, and the first thing we did was to put up some shanties for us to live in while we were buildin'. The man was in a tremendous hurry about the thing, and wanted us to work day and night, if we could. So we put up some rough huts, and made ourselves as comfortable as pos sible. The trappers were hired, too, and they came down from their cabin every mornin'. Nights they used to go huntin and we had all the bear meat we wanted Things went on smooth for some days and besides a bear growl now and then, or a rattlesnake's call, we didn't hear anything unusal. We soon got used to the awful quiet, and didn't think of harm.

"One night—'twas Saturday—we went to sleep very tired. We had worked hard until abut 10 o'clock, because we had the next day to rest in. Ten of us slept in one shanty and five in another. I was with the five. Just who left the door wide open none of us ever found out. We were all so plaguy sleepy we didn't know what was going on. It must have been soon after midnight that I woke up, feelin' as though some one had stuck me with a knife. I was sittin' straight up on my bunk (we had straw ticks on the floor). and there by my side, with one claw dug into my arm, was a big black bear. For minute I was all broken to pieces. Havin' been so sound asleep and all, I 'spose my wits were kinder scattered. While I was so confused, I heard some one hollerin' for belp. I turned, and by the light of the moon, which was shinir in, I saw Bill Stivers, who had a bunk next to mine, clasped in the arms of another big bear. Then I was wide awake, and gave my hand a twist. It came so sudden that the cuss adn't time to think. arm loose. With that I jumped to my feet and put for my gun. The varmint was too quick for me, and grabbed me around the waist. I tell you, stranger, I thought the jig was up. I gave a glance 'round the room. Bill was on the floor, and the bear on top of him. The other fellers were awake, and in the door came another bear. We all yelled at the top of our voices. Bill was nearly smothered, but he managed to scream for a knife. I did the same and then tried to trip the cuss. He began squeezing, and I fought like the mischief. I tell you, it's tough. Those critters will just take the breath out of you in no time at all. I tripped the cuss somehow and fell on top. As I fell, I hit him with all my might between the eyes. It seemed to stagger him for an instant, and he let up a little on his hold. Quicker'n I've been talkin', I had squirmed out, was kinder tumbling towards the wall. The varmint was after me right off, and I couldn't reach my gun. All I could get was my jack-knife, which was lyin' on a box. Before I could get my arm up with it I was in the chap's claws. I knew the thing would be over mighty quick if something desperate warn't done, for the critter was madder'n fury. I just stuck the knife into his heart again and again. Of course, he had my arms pressed against my side, and all I could use was my hand. That alone didn't deal very hard blows, but it was life or eternity with me, so I did the best. I was weakenin' fast, but I kept it up. Pretty quick everybegan to swim and my power was goin' fast. I knew that my jack was doin' some good, for I could feel the blood runnin' from the bear. His terrible grip continered though, and I could tell that the last of my foolin' had come. I must have hollered as loud as I could, for I remember hearin' a sound and words of some kind. I was sinkin', when I heard, like a noise 'way off, the report of a gun. On a sec ond I tumbled on the floor, all in a heap, and the cuss, lettin' go of me, rolled over dead. It was one of them trappers saved

Is exceedingly happy to announce to his numerous friends that his wite and self have safely returned from nearly a seven weeks' tour through a portion of ninestates, riding and satling nearly 3,000 miles. Dr. Greene is now ready to help all sick persons to regain their health. His attendant says in one week of his absence 107 patients called to see him at his offices. The tollowing appeared in the Columbia Courant of June 17, 1889: FROM THE BRINK OF THE GRAVE. As nearly everybody in Columbia knows As nearly everybody in Columbia knows Harry Long has not for two years past been expected to live from one week to the other, nearly all of which time he has been in bed or propped up in an arm chair. During this time he has taken medicine enough to kill a dozen people—pounds of pills and powders and barrels of iquids, Mr. Wm. Paxson, and others who had been looking after the wants of Mr. Long, prevailed upon him to try Dr. C. A. Greene, of Lancaster, and I am pleased to say the effect Lancaster, and I am pleased to say the effect of Dr. Greene's treatment is magical. The sick man is now almost like one raised from the grave. He is now out visiting friends, and a few days ago was in Lancaster city to offer congratulations to Dr. Greene in person. Well! well! Wonders never cease. S. S.

ATERVINE, OR TONIC SPECIFICA. A BOON TO BOTH SEXES.

A REMEDY WITHOUT A RIVAL for all diseases arising from Nervous Debility, Sexual Disorders, over Indulgence of Vicious Habits, as well as from the prostration of old age. Its curative properties in violent and chronic forms of the following diseases have been attested to by the most Eminent Physicians:

Dyspepsia, Self Abuse, Headache, Dizziness, Sexual Exhaustion, Spermatorrhœa, General Debility, Impotency, Premature Decay, &c.

It has been in use for over forty years, and is to-day the most popular remedy for the diseases above mentioned in the WORLD. It can be used without regard to diet, is pleasant in taste, and better than all, it is a sure, safe and certain cure. It is no quack medicine, but stands upon its own merits, as any trial wil amply demonstrate. Since 1836 this remedy has always been sold for a much larger price than that for which it is now sold; but owing to the act that the time for the payment of an enormous royalty upon its manufacture has expired, it is offered to the suffering of both sexes at one dollar per package, so as to be within the reach of all; at which price it will A BOON TO BOTH SEXES. sexes at one dollar per package, so as to be within the reach of all; at which price it will be sent to any address free of further charge.
